Executive Summary

The Sales Performance Analysis was conducted to evaluate sales performance across regions, product categories, sub-categories, products, and time periods. The analysis focused on identifying key sales drivers, underperforming areas, and seasonal trends to support data-driven business decisions for Alfido Tech.

The analysis recorded total revenue of 2,261,536.78 from 4,922 orders and 793 customers, with an Average Order Value (AOV) of 459.48.

Among the regions, West was the best-performing region, while South recorded the lowest performance. At the category level, Technology generated the highest sales, whereas Office Supplies was the weakest-performing category. Phones were the top-performing sub-category, while Fasteners generated the lowest sales.

Sales performance also varied across months, with November recording the highest sales and February recording the lowest. Product-level analysis identified the Canon imageCLASS 2200 Advanced Copier as the highest-revenue product, while Eureka Disposable Bags for Sanitaire Vibra Groomer I Upright Vac was the lowest-revenue product among the analyzed products.

Overall, the findings highlight opportunities to strengthen high-performing regions and products while introducing targeted strategies for weaker regions, categories, products, and low-sales periods.

- Total Revenue: 2,261,536.78
- Total Orders: 4,922
- Total Customers: 793
- Average Order Value: 459.48

Regional Sales Performance

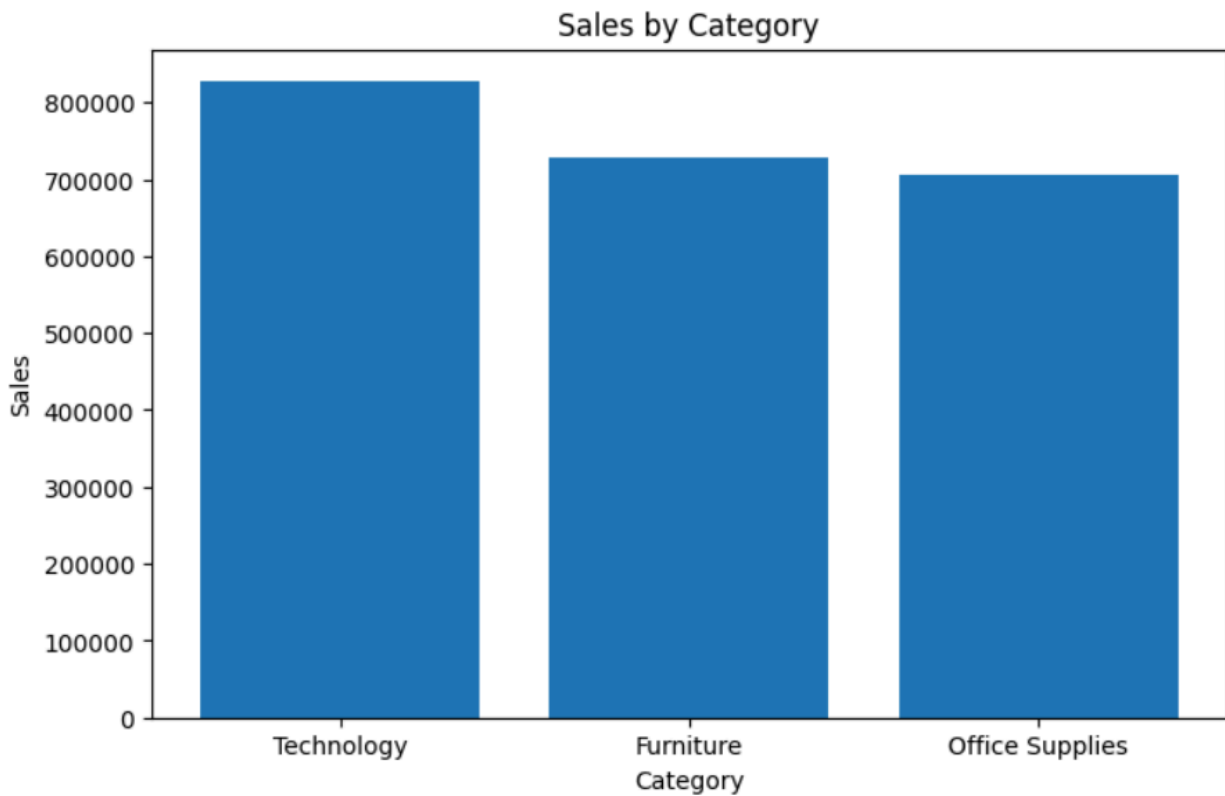

Key Findings

- 🏆 Best Region: West
- ⚠️ Worst Region: South

Insight:

West is the strongest-performing region, while South records the weakest performance. Alfido Tech should investigate differences in customer demand, product availability, pricing and promotional effectiveness between these regions

Category Performance

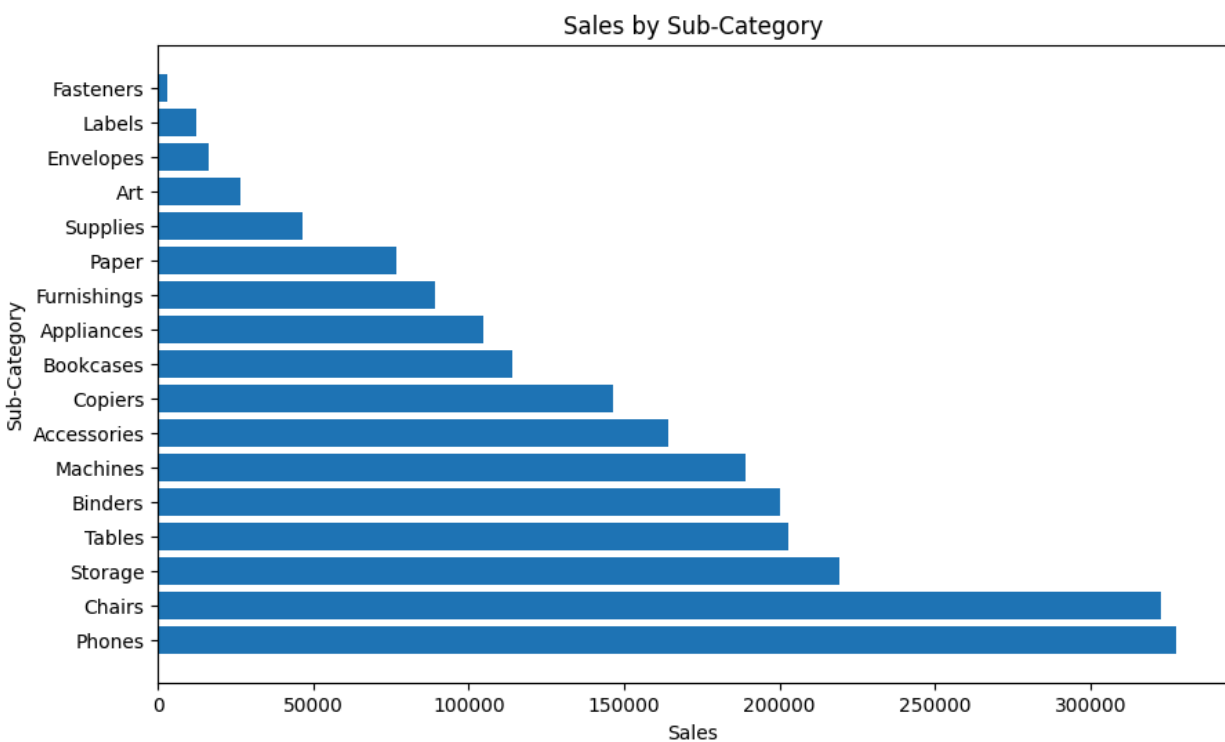

Key Findings

- 🏆 Best Category: Technology
- ⚠️ Worst Category: Office Supplies

Insight:

Technology is the strongest-performing category and represents an important revenue driver. Office Supplies requires further evaluation of pricing, product assortment, customer demand and promotional strategies.

Sub-Category Performance

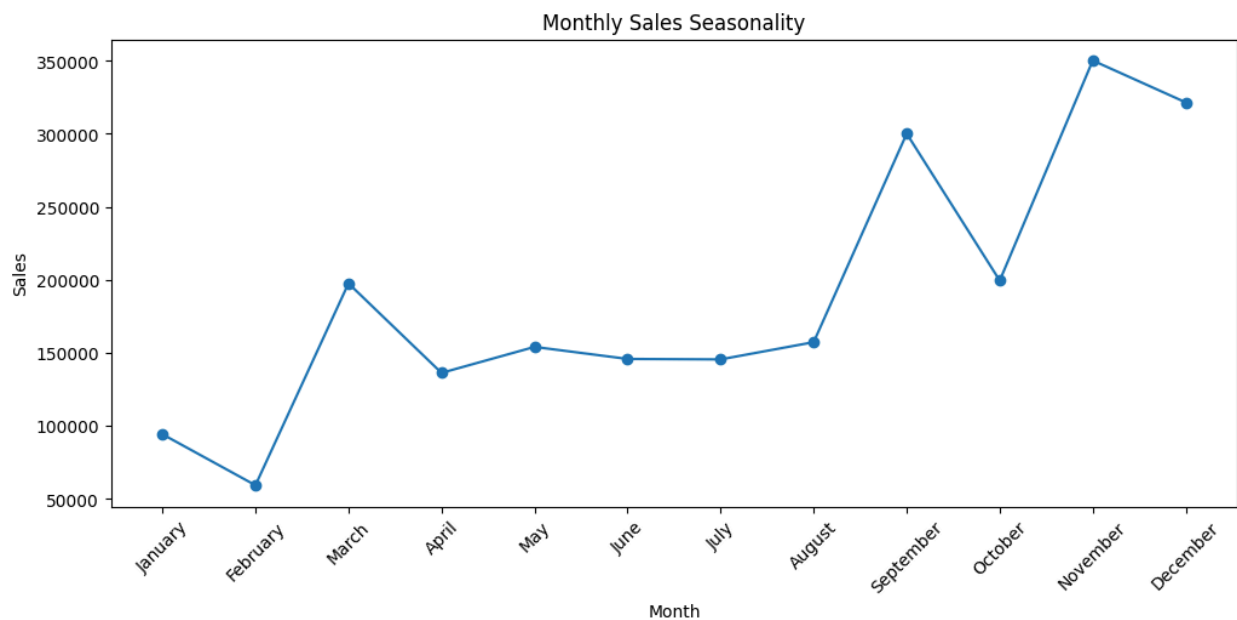

Key Findings

- 🏆 Best Sub-Category: Phones
- ⚠️ Worst Sub-Category: Fasteners

Insight

Phones demonstrate strong customer demand and should receive appropriate inventory and promotional support. Fasteners have comparatively weak sales and may require pricing, bundling or inventory optimization.

Monthly / Seasonal Sales Performance

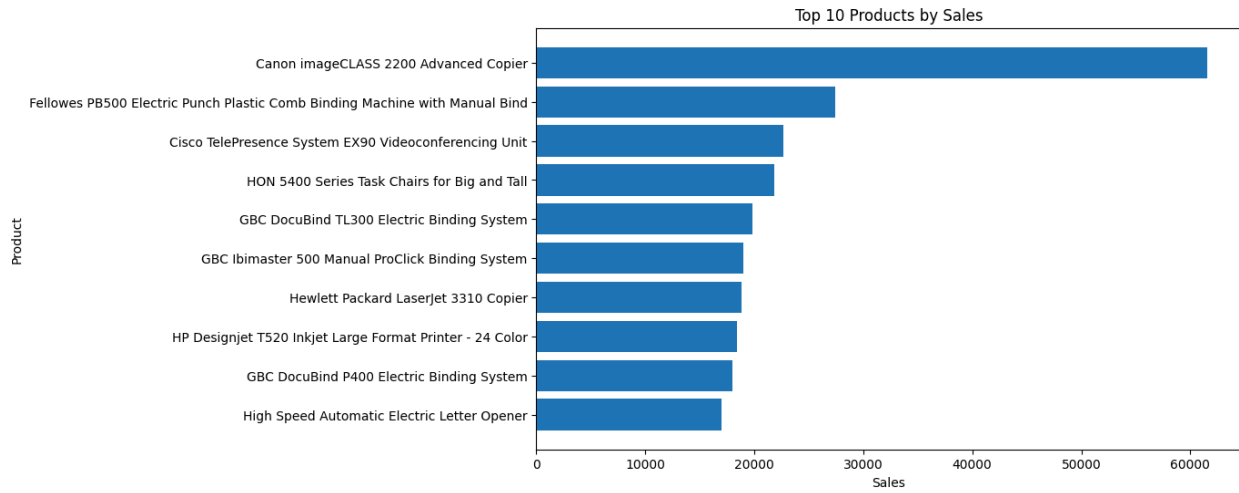

Key Findings

- 🏆 Best Sales Month: November
- ⚠️ Worst Sales Month: February

Insight

Sales vary considerably across months. November represents the strongest sales period, while February represents the weakest. Marketing and inventory planning should therefore be adjusted according to seasonal demand.

Top 10 Products

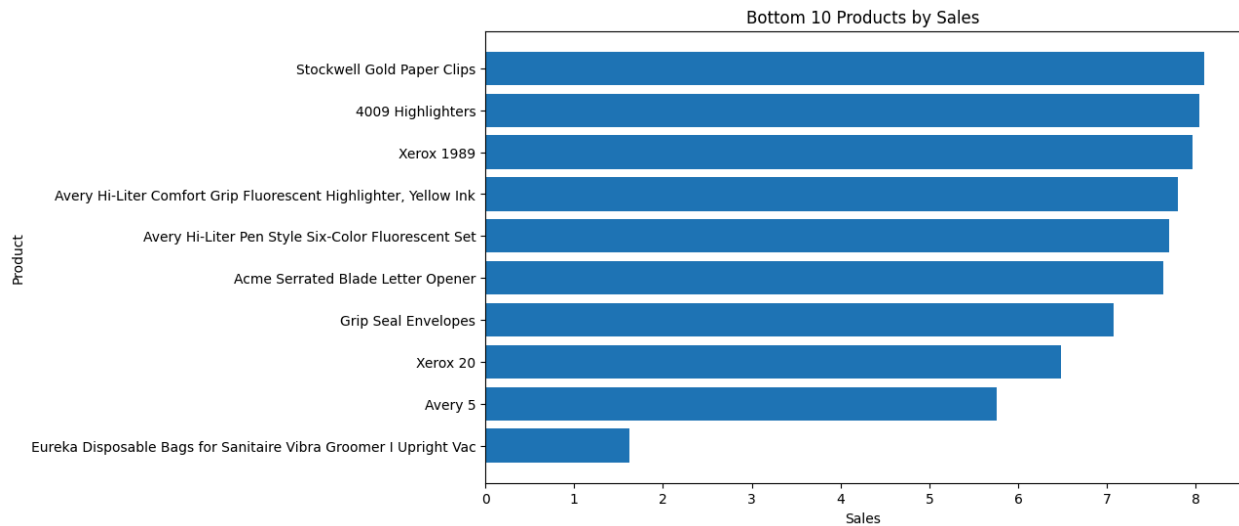

Rank	Product	Sales
1	Canon imageCLASS 2200 Advanced Copier	61,599.82

Insight

The bottom-performing products contribute very little revenue compared with the leading products. Their pricing, demand, inventory levels and product relevance should be reviewed.

Key Business Insights

Regional

West is the strongest region, while South requires improvement.

Category

Technology is the strongest category, while Office Supplies is the weakest.

Sub-Category

Phones lead sub-category performance, while Fasteners are the weakest.

Seasonality

November is the strongest sales month, while February is the weakest.

Products

The Canon imageCLASS 2200 Advanced Copier is the highest-revenue product, while several bottom products generate extremely low revenue.

Tactical Recommendations

1. Strengthen the South Region

Use targeted promotions and investigate the reasons behind lower regional sales.

2. Invest in Technology & Phones

Maintain inventory and promotional support for high-performing Technology products, especially Phones.

3. Improve Office Supplies

Review pricing, product assortment and customer demand for the weakest category.

4. Use Seasonal Campaigns

Prepare inventory and marketing before November and introduce promotional campaigns during February.

5. Optimize Product Portfolio

Protect high-performing products while reviewing low-performing products for discounts, bundling, replacement or discontinuation.

Conclusion

The Sales Performance Analysis provided a comprehensive view of Alfido Tech's sales across regions, categories, sub-categories, products, and time periods. The business generated 2,261,536.78 in total revenue from 4,922 orders and 793 customers, with an Average Order Value of 459.48. The analysis identified West as the best-performing region, Technology as the strongest category, and Phones as the leading sub-category. November recorded the highest sales, while February was the weakest month. Product-level analysis also highlighted significant differences between high- and low-performing products. Overall, the findings provide clear opportunities to strengthen high-performing areas, improve weaker segments, optimize the product portfolio, and use targeted regional and seasonal strategies to improve future sales performance
